1. Commission updates list of cross-border VAT rulings

The European Commission has published an updated list of cross-border VAT rulings. The 18th and most recent ruling of June 2016 relates to storage services for oil products and concerns the Netherlands and Belgium. The cross-border VAT rulings project was set up in 2013 and allows taxpayers to obtain a ruling agreed between two or more participating member states. To date, 18 member states participate in this project.

2. No interim relief for businesses who profited from Belgian excess profits regime

On 19 July 2016, the EU General Court refused to grant Belgium interim relief from its obligations to claim tax arrears from multinationals who benefitted from the Belgian “excess profits” tax regime, which the Commission considers to be unlawful state aid, and to inform the Commission of the beneficiaries and the amounts of tax savings resulting from the regime. The substantive appeal is yet to be decided.
